CONSUMPTION: Its Cure and Its Preventive. BY J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleep-ing the dreamless slumber into which, had they calming the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmily adopted DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacions medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptious. To the faith of the invalid is made no representations that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfalling. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition, the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then, comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated

The work and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last, A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylincation is now progressing without sits previous tor-tures. Digestion becomes painles, and the cure is tures. Digestion becomes painles, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appedite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten threne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or the womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Freshair, and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is a great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me.

fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since." soon gained my strength, and have grown in nesh ever since."
"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Dector, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. I. H. Schenck, Ir. still continue to see patients at phia, every Saturday, from 9a. m. to 3 p.m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respiremeter will be charged five dollars. The Respiremeter declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the modicine are almost a little of the state of the state curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever. gene forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. THOMPSON LILLY & CO., 26 Hanover street Baltimore, Md., Wholesale Agents. mhll-s.t.th.tr

CHANGE OF THE GREAT SOUTHERN MAIL ROUTE.-By an order of the Postmaster General, just issued, the great mails between New York. Washington and New Orleans, heretofore transmitted via Chattanooga, Tenn., Grand Junction, Tenn., and Canton, Miss., are to be changed from this date to the route of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, running by an air line from Chattanooga to Meridian, Miss., thence over the Mobile and Ohio Railroad to Mobile, and thence over the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad, reaching New Orleans twelve hours sooner than by the former route.

REFORM IN THE INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU .- Col. McMichael, Solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has so far comple the examination of pending compromise cases as to be able to commence acting to-day on each case as it comes into the office. That this prompt manner of dealing with these cases will be beneficial to the public service will be more fully understood when it is known that, heretoforthe papers in compromise cases have generally remained in the Revenue Bureau from two months to two years before they have been acted on. The average number of compromise cases presented is about 90 a month.

THE CIVIL SERVICE COMMITTEE .- The committee appointed by the President, under the recent act of Congress to make inquiries and suggest a system of improvement in the civil service of the government, has been assigned apartments in the Interior Department. The first meeting will be held on the 20th irst. Col Cox, of the Interior Department; Mr. Elliott of the Treasury Department, and Mr. Blackfan of the Post-Office Department, have accepted their appointments on the committee. It is not yet known outside of the State Department whether George William Curtis, ex-Senator Cattell, of New Jersey, and Joseph Medill. of Chicago, have accepted or not. It is understood that Mr. Curtis will be president of the Commission, and Mr. Elliott or Col. Cox, secretary. THE NEW JERSEY RAILROAD LEASE .- The action of the stockholders of the United Railroad Companies of New Jersey at their meeting on Wednesday, when they passed a resolution approving the coarse of the Joint Board in furthering the lease to the Pennsylvania Central, is considered conclusive that the lease will be perfected. The most opposition came from ome of the stockholders of the New Jersey Railroad, and they claim that without the assent of all the owners of stock to taking the bonds of the Pennsylvania Central the lease is not 'valid. It appears, however, that only a two-thirds majority is required, and that undoubtedly can be had. That the contract will be completed by the first of July is considered certain, unless the opposition resort to litigation, of which there is some expectation. FRANCE SLIDING INTO A MONARCHY .- The Orleans Princes have promised to forego their seats in the French Assembly and to prevent their sons from becoming candidates. An indication of the desire of the Bonapartists to test their strength among the people of France is hown in the candidacy of Prince Napoleon, Rouher, Hausemann and Guerronier for the Assembly. In speaking of the action of the Assembly with regard to the Orleans Princes, a Paris paper gives warning that France is sliding down an incline into monarchy.

Rhode Island proposes to abolish the property qualification for voters, except where the question is upon matters of taxation, and to substitute an educational test, and the New York Herald thinks that "this will give little Bhody an aumentation of voters; for, while nearly everybody there can read, it is generally taken for granted that nobody there holds any property except the rival families of Sprague and Ives."

An East Indian paper gives the following highly satisfactory explanation of what are known as the late "Kookie" raids on British territory in India; "A daughter of the Kookie chief having died, a number of meu's headwere wanted to burn with hos dead body, and his subjects loyally proceeded across our frontier to collect the requisite material." The Territorial Offices How Shall They be Permanently Filled? Editor of Star: The Chronicle of last Sunday, in referring to a communication signed "Radical," and printed in THE STAR of the 29th ult.,

"Radical" opens his argument as follows:-"Radical" opens his argument as follows:—
"In the determination of this question it should be remembered that the places to be filled are all, in their character and purposes, executive, and that these, in the very nature of all government, should be properly subordinate and responsible to the chief executive—the Governor. Consequently, they should be appointed by the Governor. In no other way can there be either proper subordination or responsibility." Upon this the Sunday Chronicle comments as

"This point looks very plausible, supposing the fact to be that the responsibility of the gov-ernment is centered in the executive; but as no such fact exists, or was ever contemplated by Congress, and, besides, is not the practice under any republican form of government, its adoption in this District would be a movement toward centralization which we doubt very much whether the people would sanction."

The unfairness of this criticism will be apparent to every intelligent reader. "Radical" does not maintain that "the responsibility of the government is centered in the executive," but that "the responsibility of the executive branch of the government" is in its chief or head—the Governor. Hence, as the offices to be filled are all in their character and purposes purely execu-tive, that their appointment should be vested in the Governor, because upon no other plan "can there be either proper subordination or responsi-bility" in the executive branch.

Will the Sunday Chronicle controvert that? It does not do so in its articles of Sunday last, Will the Sunday Chronicle controvert that? It does not do so in its articles of Sunday last, but it labors with manifest unfairness to wholly change, if not to misrepresent the issue which "Radical" thinks involved in the question: "How shall the Territorial offices be filled?" Thus, instead of printing the whole of "Radical's" communication, which would refute its editorial criticism, it quotes only another paragraph, in which "Radical" exposes the conflicts of authority, and consequently the mischievons farces, the miserable abortions into which the old municipal governments had been converted, growing out of the practice of electing these subordinate executive officers, and then says: "Now were such cases as the above" [that is, if unity, harmony, and vigor, in the adjustment of the executive branches, were] "made the bases of government, we would to-day be living under a system of imperialism instead of democracy." Indeed! is it possible! Do we to-day live under democracy? Is ours a democracy, or a representative republic? But the Chronicle continues: "The trouble with "Radical" is that he has too little faith in the people, and in his apprehensive mood thinks that the less power they have the better security they will enjoy. The spirit of the times cannot accept such a doctrine; to do so, would admit a retrogression at war with the very essence of republicanism, and an insult to the successful operations of some of its radical progressive ideas."

to the successful operations of some of its radical progressive ideas."

This is very severe; about as severe as it is just.

Let us see. Is the Constitution of the United States "at war with the very essence of republicanism?" Is the organization of the executive branches of our national government—the "practice" of Gen'l Grant's administration—"at ar with the They must be if the theory of the Sunday Chronicle be correct, because the plan for which "Radical" contends is that of "the Constitution of the United States in reference to the national executive"-that upon which rests the administration of Gen'l Grant, as has also rested every national administration since the foundation of the government, and "Radical," in illustration and support of his plan, cited the fact that, under the Constitution, the "Secretary of the Treasury, all the different Secretaries, the collectors of revenue and customs, all the members of the executive, are appointed by the President. They are thus made responsible to him. He in turn is responsible to Congress and the nation." Indeed, the plan and principles for which 'Radical" contends are those of the old radical democracy in its palmiest days. They consti-tuted one of its cardinal features. Thus, General Jackson, in 1833, in his contest with the old National Bank, was sustained by the old radica democracy, by the founder of the Sunday Chronicle and triumphantly by the people, in the remova of the deposits and the expulsion of Secretary Duane from office. General Jackson main tained that the resposibility was in the Presi dent-the chief Executive-not in the Secretary or subordinate. He contended that, very proj erly, in the adjustment of the powers of th Constitution, the different departments of the government-the executive, legislative and judicial—were co-ordinate, and each independent in ts separate sphere, and that in the Chief Execu ive rested the whole responsibility of the execu tive branch of the government. General Jack son did not contend, nor does "Radical," that in the executive centered the power of the gov ernment, but that in the President rested the whole responsibility for the proper administration of the duties of the executive-to see that the laws be faithfully executed-and that only in a proper subordination (the strictest accounta-bility) of the inferior members to its chief, could there be an harmonious or effective administration of its complicated and important functions. Any other plan, he demonstrated, would be as unjust as mischievous; any other theory would be in violation of the Constitution, republican, he believed, in form. The Sunday Chronicle, therefore, wholly misapprehends "the trouble with 'Radical." I is not that he "has too little faith in the people; but he is apprehensive that certain demagogues having an interest in the perpetuation of the old disorders, might, if not promptly met now with an exposure of their designs, succeed by their clamor for pretended "popular rights" and "popular liberty," in deceiving the legislature into measures for our new government under which they might at will revive the demoralizations of the old municipal government. The Sunday Chronicle's cry of "imperialisms," "centralization," is simply the old and worn out cry of the States rights secessionist against the radical democracy under the lead of Andrew Jackson, and has been raised by the copperhead and rebel against every radical measure of the last two years. It is now too well understood to mis-lead. The Chronicle cannot give it either respectability or force. "Radical's" only desire is, that our new government shall begin right; that it shall begin under influences, and the harmonious exercise of powers which will give to it strength and vigor, securing to it the certainty of success under proper management, and making it truly conservative of the highest interests of our citi zens and the Territory. This, also, he believes to be the design of Congress in the creation of the Territory. Hence "Radical" again insists that "if the Legislature wishes to perfect the design of Congress in the establishment of our new government—if it wishes to establish a beneficent government for the District, to abolish the old conflicts of authority and their conse-quent scandal and mischief, and to establish an harmonious and effective administration of our Territorial affairs-if it wishes to work a real, thorough, and practical reform in the adminis tration of our government-it will, by investing in the Governor the permanent appointment of his official subordinates, model our territoria upon the plan of the national executive govern ment, thus securing unity, strength, and effective vigor in its chief, and harmony and a due responsibility among its several members."

A Detroit girl standing up to be married, the other day, had to have her corset string cut before she could "take this man to be her wedded husband" in the articular terms necessary to the completion of the ceremony. She was laced up to the last hole, and when the knife was applied the crack of the parted lacing was like the explosion of a kerosene lamp. THE FLOOD IN NEW ORLEADS.—Although the overflow of Water in New Orleans is fifteen inches below high water mark, a heavy rain with half a gale prevented further reduction. A large number of steam fire engines are at work throwing out water, but a strong southeasterly wind now prevailing will probable cause further rise in the lake. The question then reverted on Bingham's original motion to notify the Senate of the organization of the House, which passed-147 to 121. Mr Bingham then offered a resolution that the House is now ready to meet the Senate in joint convention to fill the vacancies, and moved the previous question. After consultation with the leaders of the republican side Bingham, withdrew his motion for the previous question, and it was agreed that no opposition should be made to the resolution, provided Scott, republican, of Keene, be allowed to vote on his arrival to-day, as he is expected, and that the ballot be kept open until his arrival or information from him is received. With this understanding the resolution of Bingham passed without opposition. At 7.15 a. m. a recess was taken until 10 a. m. Many members were sleeping during the tedious session, and had to be aroused by watchful friends to vote on the question.

They have also stolen all the provisions in store. The condition of affairs is most alarming, and it is impossible at present to give the extent and meaning of this sudden and destructive attack. The people are in a state of the utmost terror.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—In the case of Dr. Oliver W. Reid, who was in July last convicted of performing a criminal surgical operation, Judge Paxson this morning, upon the motion for a new trial, delivered an able opinion. The female upon whom the abortion was performed had been married to the co-defendant to prevent her being used as a witness. She was, how-ever, examined, and upon her evidence Reid was convicted. FORTY MEN DROWNED AT SEA.—Information has reached St. John's Newfoundland, of the total loss of a coasting vessel with forty souls on board. She was bound to a village in Trinity bay, and those on board were the crews of two vessels, who were returning to their homes after a successful voyage. Nearly all were married men, with families. The village alluded to is said to present a scene of mourning and woe, nearly every family having lost a member. It is supposed that the lost schooner struck a low iceberg in the dark and went down immediately.

LABOR STRIKE IN VIRGINIA.—There is trouble with the laborers on the Lynchburg and Danville railroad.
